OFFICERS RAID M'QUEEN HOME AND GET RUM

Prohibition officers raided the home of Jim McQueen, near Design Saturday afternoon and there found twenty gallons of moonshine whiskey. McQueen was placed under arrest together with G. C. Farmer who resides just across the road and both were taken to Chatham and placed in jail, pending a hearing. Although the whiskey had been found in McQueen's house, officers had reasons to believe Farmer was associated with him in selling the spirits, and this is given as the reason for his arrest. Officers who conducted the raid were State Prohibition Inspector W. T. Shelton, prohibition officers B. L. Hedinger and county officers J. W. Pugh, Tom Smith and P. Hudson. They claim that numerous complaints have been made recently about the place and automobiles in large numbers frequent the house often.

Colored Worker To Leave City

Rev. M. C. Allen, one of the best known colored ministers and educators of Danville and vicinity, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church and principal of the Pittsylvania County Training School, has resigned that work to accept the general supervision of the Virginia Theological Seminary and college located at Lynchburg. In addition to his local religious and educational activities the preacher is chairman of the board of directors and superintendent of the board of education in the Virginia Baptist State conference.

The Lynchburg institution to which the retiring pastor will go is attracting wide attention among colored people. Some of the best trained and most talented men and women of the race are attending with the faculty of the college. So noteworthy has been the success of this educational effort of the Virginia Baptist convention that the college has attracted the attention of the wealthier colored men of the country, who have shown a willingness to give it financial aid. Wat Terry, of Brockton, Mass., said to be a millionaire, is a member of its board of trustees while Adolphus Humbles, a rich colored resident of Lynchburg, has taken a generous interest in this educational effort. The school has a faculty of about 40 members, seven hundred students, representing almost every state in the Union, and the value of the educational plant has been estimated at half a million dollars. The administration building, erected and equipped during the past year at a cost of about $150,000 was the latest addition to it. The school is said to be practically free of debt. A meeting of the local school league in Virginia last night at which W. J. Hubbard presided an informal farewell program was given as an expression of appreciation of the retiring principle of the school. Chairman Hubbard, H. E. Love, N. M. Shelton and Nat. Stoddard of Almagro, and a number of others spoke in words of warm praise of the work of Principal Allen in the community and county. Some of the speakers contrasted former conditions in the vicinity in the matter of ignorance and illiteracy with the development attained today and eulogized the teaching as a potent influence for the stimulation of education, character building and good will.

In acknowledging the tributes to his service and the expressions of regret at his prospective departure, Principal Allen said in part: "Our people's greatest need is sane leadership—not race-haters, but race-lovers, not complainers, but workers—not scraping theories on ice problems but practical programs of adjustment. We have among us a group of people who are 'fanks of hot air' ever ready to assert neglect of us and our children by the white race as an excuse for our backwardness. These are the fact such persons are not interested in any people's progress and would have equal contempt for a practical program that requires them a nickel's worth of work or sacrifice to improve conditions."

Let me urge you, as you have started and to improve the school advantages for your children. Colored people are complaining a great deal about school conditions, but complaints will never build a school. There should be organized in every community a league to co-operate with school boards and meet them with some money and less complaints and results will follow. There are more than twenty-two private colleges in Virginia for white boys and girls costing millions of dollars annually, but which come out of the pockets of the white citizenship, and not out of the State's funds. For the higher education of the colored man, the other place has given us the Virginia Theological Institute, Harts Horn College for girls and the Virginia Union University at Richmond. There are not State schools, but schools that are owned, financed and operated by white people for colored people. Now where and how is the colored man's interest in his own higher education indicated or tangibly manifested? We have only one—the Virginia Theological Seminary and College located in Lynchburg. The factors here is a result of your co-operation with me as principal and with the school board. I am glad for your sake and because of the closed schools of this county and others for lack of trained teachers. The State recognizes your teacher-training institution by issuing teachers' certificates to those who take the courses."

The retiring educator and minister has been in Danville (or Almagro) for seven years, and his work has been very successful. Rev. C. C. Harvey, A. B. D., is his successor and is said to be a man of fine training for the work.

ENDURANCE TEST WILL BE MADE IN COMING WEEK

(By The Associated Press)

DAYTON, O., Feb. 3.—With favorable weather conditions, Lieutenants Oakley G. Kelly and John A. MacRae, of the United States army, will start their endurance flight Tuesday or Wednesday of the coming week, McCook Field officials announced today.

First tests of the T-2 plane, in which the flight will be made, since the new motor and new fittings have been installed, will be made Monday. The pilots will endeavor to exceed their endurance record flight of more than 35 hours which was established in the T-2 while flying over San Diego, California in October of last year.

Provisions have been made to carry a fuel supply sufficient to remain in the air for approximately 48 hours. The take-off will be made at Wilbur Wright Field, after which the flyers will pilot their plane over Dayton until the flight is completed.

"U. S. Justice Crumbling"

ARE WE LIARS?

Do we Americans tell untruths today more glibly than we did 35 years ago?

Has our conception of honesty degenerated so far that the machinery of justice has been rendered useless by the trust of perjury?

Judge John C. Townes, Austin, Texas, one of America's most learned jurists, thinks so.

He says: "It is almost impossible for courts to render justice today. We need in our courtrooms more of the rugged honesty which formerly was our priceless treasure."

That's an indictment of the moral fabric of all American society.

Are we guilty or not guilty?

(Special to The Bee)

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 3.—Greed, a love of easy living and a break-down of moral values have become so dominant a factor in American courts that justice is entirely thwarted.

That statement comes from Judge John C. Townes, 15 years dean of the law school of the University of Texas and a lawyer, jurist, writer and educator of nation-wide reputation.

And so dead in earnest is Townes that, despite his 70 years, he has resigned his office as dean and will go back to teaching so that he will be more intimately in touch with law students—the lawyers and judges of the future.

By this and by writing and lecturing he hopes to do his bit to combat the menage he is convinced is undermining American justice.

"It is almost impossible for courts to render justice today," Townes says.

HEALTH REPORT FOR CITY MADE

The quarterly report of the Health Department of the City of Danville for the period ending December 31, has just been made. This report covers the various phases of the work of the department and the progress that has been made in educating the public along lines of better living.

In a brief report of the report says: "In the past the annual report of the Health Department has coincided with the calendar year but now since the City has wisely adopted the budget plan for its finances, it seems more advisable that the annual report should cover the fiscal year ending April 30th. The vital statistics for the calendar year only is therefore given in this issue of the quarterly report."

The quarter has been marked especially by first inauguration of the new plan of public health engineering, which has been completed by the school children than previously. Third, active clinic work through adenoid and tonsil and dental clinics. Fourth, special efforts to improve nutrition of school children.

Among the projects to which special attention should be given by the City during 1923 are: First, an extensive sewer building program made possible by special bond issue of not less than $100,000. Second, provision of more adequate quarters for the Health Department, preferably in a residence building to be fitted up and known as The Health Center. Third, the provision of more adequate playground facilities, including playgrounds, a wading pool in Green Street Park and a swimming pool in Ballou Park, all properly supervised. Fourth, the provision of a convenient, comfortable and in co-ordination with the City Farm; Fifth, provision of a convenient, well equipped city market.

C. Ashworth, which took place in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Scott on Claiborne Avenue, Thursday afternoon, followed by interment in the High Street Cemetery. The Rev. Starke Jet, of Scott Memorial Methodist church was officiating minister, assisted by Rev. C. Kelly Hobbs, the Rev. W. Carroll, and the Rev. J. W. Wimble. The floral designs were most beautiful.

MRS. J. W. BETHELL DIES

News was received here last night in a telegram to relatives of the death of Mrs. James W. Bethell, of Reidsville, in Rockingham, N. C., last night. Mrs. Bethell has many relatives in Danville and is well known in the community as a prominent North Carolina family.

Time was when men preferred to have their necks broken, rather than to perjure themselves. Times have changed.

It is a well-known fact without testimony perjury is impossible. And when men and women perjure themselves, coldly, calculatingly and cleverly, truthful testimony is impossible to get.

It takes moral courage to tell truth, and moral courage is grievously lacking.

"Love of easy living is causing lawyers to abandon the ethics of their profession and the dictates of their own consciences. Even the public is misled by the testimony of lawyers, who are framed in advance by attorneys, the witnesses merely telling on the stand what their lawyers order them to say."

Result of War.

"The hangover from the war has left its disastrous effect. For four years the world was removed from the sphere of moral domination and was ruled by physical strength, by brute might. It is hard for people to recover their equilibrium."

"Take the lawyer. If any man should uphold the sovereignty of the constitutional government, that man is a lawyer. But, instead, many lawyers have allowed themselves to be hoodwinked into being the enemies of the courts and justice by allying themselves with hoodlums."

Property Rights Sacred.

"There is growing in this country a feeling that the rights of property are more sacred than the rights of life and limb. A recent decision of one of the highest courts of the land virtually declared that all such was lawful and as it should be. It is this feeling, evil and destructive, that I hate and I am going to fight against."

"We need in our courtrooms, in our public life and in our private life more of the rugged honesty which was the priceless treasure of the people 35 years ago."

Spoonful for a Penny Brings Quick Relief

Prove splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 48 hours the men had coated tongues and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 25 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

Failure of Lausanne Conference Finds America Not Involved in Any Way and Unpleasant Results Will Not Affect U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Advisers from Ambassador Child, telling of the rupture between the Turks and Allies at Lausanne, began reaching the State Department today, but pending a complete report comment was deferred on the effect of the breakdown on United States interests.

No attempt was made to disguise the seriousness with which the situation is regarded in Washington. Presumably the failure of the Lausanne conference leaves the United States in the same position in which it stood when the decision was reached to send Ambassador Child and his colleagues there as observers.

stood in a wholly different relationship to the conference than any of the other powers represented. It alone had unbroken treaty relationship with Turkey covering the capitulatory rights of American nationals in Turkey.

The United States never has been at war with Turkey and except for the action of the Turk Government in 1914 in declaring all the treaties of capitulation to have been abrogated the validity of American treaty rights in that territory has not been challenged.

When Turkey entered the war as the ally of Germany the German government totally accepted the abrogation of the Turkish-German capitulations. To what extent subsequent declarations of war against Turkey by Britain and Italy nullified these treaties between those powers and Turkey is not a matter in which the United States is involved for it did not declare war against Turkey.

It is to be assumed that if the Lausanne negotiations are not resumed the United States will consider the question of negotiation such treaties as may be necessary to the Turkish government that procedure being in prospect at the conclusion of the Lausanne conference, had it been successful in producing a treaty of peace.

Justice Holmes in rendering the decision of the court held in effect, that persons entering an illegal business can be taxed as though it were legal. A subsequent decision by the court held that conviction and punishment in the state courts was no barrier nor does it prevent a trial and conviction in the federal courts. In calling attention to the effectiveness of this ruling "The American Issue" declares that persons convicted of violating the liquor law in the state courts can be assessed the tax of $1,000 which is assessed to the collector of internal revenue.

The paper in its current issue gives a list of every person convicted in Virginia during the taxable period and as there are nearly a thousand names embodied in the list collection of the tax would mean receipt by the government of about $100,000. Danville makes a good showing with only three names given during the 1920-1921 period.

The prohibition organ declares that Commissioner Noel has assured the Anti-Saloon League that he would take the matter up "and prosecute it to a finish."

Court Session Was Begun Today

The corporation court convened this morning the opening session being devoted to settling the docket on which appears more than eighty cases.

The motion to revoke the sentence of probation of the will of the late John P. Hughes will be heard by the court on February 21st. The original motion filed in court served notice that on February 15th this question would be brought up but it was deemed best in view of possibly protracted evidence being heard to remove it to the end of the regular docket.

C. A. Frazier appeared in court this morning in answer to his six thousand dollar bond returnable today. The Court of Appeals of Virginia recently denied him a writ of error on his conviction of grand larceny and he now must serve the six year term meted out to him. Efforts were made to rebond him in order to permit the arrangement of his affairs but it was found that this could not be done and Frazier was remanded into custody.

IT'S AGAINST THE LAW

LONDON, Feb. 3.—John Smith, 78, has been sentenced to three months imprisonment for stealing a grave stone and three shillings from a cemetery.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing.

Scalp should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. The alkali makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greenish) and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonful of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, leaving every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply you for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified—adv.

The Belgian guard of honor lined up on the Antwerp quay as the American Army Transport St. Mihiel sailed for America with the final detachment of American troops.

AT THE Y. W. C. A.

For weeks the girls in the Industrial Girls Club have been busy engaged in planning and rehearsing for the Minstrel Show which is to be given in the Elks Auditorium, Thursday, February 8th and Friday, February 9th. "The Belles of Blackville" and "Patchwork" is a comedy are the suggestive names of what promises to be a very clever and entertaining program. There will be a quartette of stringing and jokes to bring a smile if not a hearty laugh from even the most serious. The costumes are to be of the most approved style in the realm of minstrelsy. An evening of real minstrel entertainment is promised to Danville folks, February 8th and 9th. Tickets are on sale and can be purchased at the Y. W. C. A. office. The proceeds of the summer conference plans. The Y. W. C. A. with its well organized Industrial Department wants Danville well represented at the Summer Conference, and it is hoped a large delegation can be sent.

Industrial Committee
The Industrial Committee met at the home of Mrs. L. O. Crumpler, chairman of the Committee, on Thursday evening. The usual constructive program was carried out. The Committee is making a survey of Danville and much data has been gathered of interest not only to the Y. W. C. A. but to the Community at large. A sale of home-made cake and candy is to be given by the Committee on February 17th for the purpose of starting a fund to send one girl to the Bryn Mawr Summer School for Industrial Workers. The Committee desires very much to give some girl the opportunity of eight weeks at Bryn Mawr College.

"Drop-In" Sunday Afternoon

Several traveling talks have been planned for the informal Sunday afternoon gatherings at the Y. W. C. A. Miss Beattie Glasgow gave the first talk of the series several Sundays ago. This Sunday afternoon Miss Gertrude Adams will take her friends and the Sunday afternoon guests with her to Yellowstone Park, telling them something of her impressions of this most wonderful spot.

Adams is a young woman of God's handiwork. They can enjoy them through the eyes and minds of those who have seen and marvelled. Man-made things, more wonderful than the things of nature, are some glorious edifices planned by the mind and hands of man. One feels exalted and ennobled as he thinks of the "God-like power" and persistence given to him, "a little lower than the angels," but when we stand in the presence of the things God alone can make, man's efforts do indeed seem humble.

A talk on the "Grand Canyon" will be given by Miss Walter Sneed on February 26th. A cordial invitation is extended to attend these informal Sunday afternoon gatherings and to hear these bright, alert young Y. W. C. A. members tell of the things that thrilled them on their Western trip.

Girl Reserves
The supper party given by the Girl Reserves a few evenings ago was a very happy occasion. About fifty gathered around the cheery tables made bright and attractive with the blue and white color of the Girl Reserves. Songs and cheers led by Gladys Poe made the Recreation Hall ring with the happiness of care-free youth. A Girl Reserve tea is to be given by the Student Girl Reserve on February 15th, the proceeds of which will be used to send several delegates to the Mid-Winter Conference for High School Girls to be held in Lynchburg very shortly.

Recreation Night
Tuesday night is to be recreation night at the Y. W. C. A. It will be a time for tired girls to forget their burdens and to have fun. There will be volleyball and in-door tennis, and an evening of real fun is planned. Several basket-ball teams are being organized and any girl interested in this wholesome sport may join the Y. W. C. A. and talk over the possibilities of playing on a team. Practice will be on Tuesday evenings with a good coach at the Municipal Hall.

Slump Cleared Of Bristol Charge

BY GEORGE H. HANING (Washington Correspondent of The Danville Bee.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—The postoffice inspectors have completed their investigation of rumors in connection with the election to represent the postmaster at Bristol, Virginia, and have made a report to the Department clearing Representative C. Bascom Slump of any suspicion of improper conduct.

Their report states that they could find, from the questioning of numerous citizens of Bristol, nothing to warrant the publication in a Bristol newspaper of inferences that Mr. Slump had promised the Bristol postmaster to two different parties and that money had been used to improperly influence a decision in the matter.

Mr. Slump asked for the investigation about ten days ago following publication of the article which he resented.

Mr. Slump has not reached any decision regarding the appointment, but expects to choose soon between J. J. Alley and Charles Gauthier, the candidates.

Anglican Church Drops "Hell" in Psalter Verse

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The house of bishops of the Anglican Church today decided to eliminate the word "hell" from the forty-seventh psalm of the psalter and to substitute therefor the word "grave."

The revised version is:

"What man is he that liveth and shall not see death, and shall he deliver his soul from the power of the grave?"

Hawaii Hard Hit By Tidal Wave

HONOLULU, Feb. 4.—Between 10 and 12 persons were killed by the tidal waves in Hilo bay after yesterday's earthquake, which was reported to be between 2,000 and 3,000 miles away, it was estimated here today.

The known dead include a child swept from a sampan, and three Japanese fishermen who were trapped in the engine room of a sampan, which together with a scow, wrecked the railroad bridge across the Wailuku river.

The damage at Hilo, according to a conservative estimate, was $100,000. Several days will be required to ascertain the number of lives lost and the correct amount of the damage.

The station company's line, Matson, touched the mud bottom once while in the grip of the tidal wave, but floated off with the next wave.

The escape of the Standard Oil company's tanker, Doherty, was characterized by shipping men as remarkable. The ship was carried seaward from anchorage by an inrushing wave, then carried back to safety by the receding.

Residents of lower Hilo trudged toward the highlands with their possessions all yesterday afternoon and stevedores and others deserted their work at the docks to go to the aid of their families.

Firemen were drafted by the police department to maintain order. Hilo bay remained turbulent throughout the night. The volcano, Kilauea, which has been in a state of eruption since yesterday morning, which the seismograph said were from between 2,000 and 3,000 miles away, the big quake being known.

The shocks were stated to be the heaviest ever recorded on the seismograph here.

The crater at Kilauea remained undisturbed last night. Tutuila, the largest island in American Samoa, reported that no disturbance took place there. No replies have been received from Guam. Local navy headquarters are sure Guam was not affected.

Plan Reforms In Contesting Election

BY GEORGE H. HANING (Washington Correspondent of The Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Sweeping reforms in the procedure of contested elections proposed in bills introduced by Representatives R. Walton Moore, of Virginia, and Fred W. Dallinger, of Maine, will be considered by the House Committee on Elections this morning.

Representative Moore, who was the first to introduce any bills designed to remedy the present procedure, which has frequently given rise to national scandal, has been invited to deliver the hearing and testify in connection with his bill.

The principal provision of the Moore bill is that the Federal courts shall conduct all inquiry in election contests and certify their findings to the House, which would thus be deprived of the opportunity to play politics. This provision incorporated in his bill, with slight changes in detail.

The United States Circuit Court was designated by Mr. Moore as the referee; under the terms of Mr. Dallinger's measure, election contests would be conducted by one judge of the District Court. The rules are left to be fixed by the court, instead of being fixed by statute, as was the Virginia's law.

Makes Religion Topic Of Debate

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Feb. 4.—For six days the University of Virginia has been a stage for a debate on the subject of "The Bible in the Modern World." Dr. Hugh Black, professor of practical theology at Union Theological Seminary, who has been addressing as many people as could crowd in Cabell Hall, has been the chief speaker.

Last Sunday when Dr. Black preached a sermon on the definition of "The World" from the text, "Love not the world," the big auditorium was well filled, but yesterday when he gave the last on his own lectures, not only were all the seats to which his voice would reach filled, but the aisles in front were packed and many a student sat on each side of the stage while many more stood up for the full hour.

Faculty, students and many people from Charlottesville came to hear the message which has stirred the community and which made religion the most general topic of conversation in dormitories, fraternity houses, at the table and even in the class rooms. Lectures were suspended at noon and the students were all night listening to Dr. Black's addresses, and before the great theologian came upon the platform the hall was already filled.

President E. A. Alderman, who introduced the subject, gave his first regular address Monday, took an opportunity after the closing talk yesterday to thank the speaker for bringing so vital a subject as religion so close to the entire university.

Snow Prevents Righteous Action Parade Today

lity—the great masses of the people—to come to the assistance of the government in a spiritual way.

Rev. Mr. Taylor before he closed his sermon recalled that Danville is the only community in the country which has crystallized the idea into the expression of a city rather than of any sect or group. He named the associations which have endorsed the movement and outlined briefly what is proposed in forwarding the project during the next few days.

At the night service at Epiphany Church, Rev. Mr. Taylor continued his explication of a Christian ideal which he had begun in the morning. His text was taken from Psalm XXII, verses XXVII and XXVIII. All the ends of the world shall come unto themselves, and he turned into the Lord and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before Him.

"For the kingdom is the Lord's and he is the governor among the people," he said in the sermon. He developed how the principles of Jesus might be applied in the conduct of national affairs and just what those principles are. They were defined by the minister as:

First, The sacredness of the individual.

Second, The principle that all men are brothers and, finally, Mutual service which is an outgrowth of the second.

These were held out as the three prime principles, laid down by Jesus during the course of his earthly life and teaching and it was these same fundamentals which Jesus had developed to those of us who are to ask President Harding and other high officials of the nation to apply in dealing with the complex national and international affairs which are in the development of our common history growing more ominous.

Christ's interest in the individual was manifested in many of his parables, the lost sheep, the lost coin, the prodigal son, the man of the house, the instance of a centurion's faith and finally—the epic of the cross when the thief was forgiven. The application of the sacredness of the individual was traced from the frequent insistence on domestic life of the quarrelsome child up to the quarreling of nations and the development of international feuds. Rev. Mr. Taylor stressed the truth that human beings are created to be in proper relation to one another in the application of the second principle, the minister said that while Christ regarded the individual as sacred he did not regard him as isolated, but that he was a member of a common brotherhood. This is made clear further in Christ's teachings, notably in the Lord's prayer in which "Our Father" is beseeched and the collective pronoun is used. Love, he said, is the motive of this principle, this again being emphasized in the past of discipleship and mutual love being regarded as the true motive of all Christian life.

The third and last principle—that of mutual service as exemplified by Jesus in his life. The teaching of this Master that on the Day of Judgment those who have served are assured of everlasting joy was put forward and it was stressed that the failure to carry out this principle, be it the individual or the nation, will be paid the wages of sin.

The pastor's final analogy was taken from the story of the Good Samaritan where Christ then drawing near the close of his earthly existence of spiritual perfection, withdrew from his disciples and prayed with such fervor that the great sinner, who had been a blasphemer, was changed into a man of prayer with such fervor that, what is the obligation of the people of the world today? Like Jesus, the pastor concluded, the leaders of our government should be men of prayer and prayer, he said, is not a problem, he said, which could not be solved by such prayers.

Good Morning Judge!

A raid conducted Saturday night on Prospect street at the home of John Lee Anderson, a negro, resulted in the arrest of several negro men and women on various charges, which were heard in the police court this morning. The raid was made by Sergeant J. J. Martin and Patrolmen W. B. Foster, Tom Dowle and Harvey Dameron. The attention of the officers was attracted Saturday night by vulgar and profane language which they heard from the outside. The three patrolmen lifted Sergeant Martin to the window and from there he beheld a scene of much disorder.

As a result fines this morning were imposed on all. Clarence Douglas and Geneva Young also Jennie Keen, drew fines of $21 and costs each on statutory charges. Nellie Frye was assessed sixteen dollars and costs for her disorderly conduct. Arthur Black was fined a similar amount on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge. A charge of operating an ill-governed and disorderly house against Clarence Douglas was dismissed after it was shown that the place was the home of John Lee Anderson, now in jail on a Map act violation charge. Geneva Young was supposed to have charge of the place.

Horace Haurston, colored, paid ten dollars and costs for an assault on Daniel Powell. He is alleged to have attacked Powell, a white man, claiming Powell kept the police informed of his activities.

"He accused me and I beat him up," was the only statement of Haurston.

"Was it worth ten dollars?" inquired the court.

"Yes sir, yes sir," responded the negro with a smile as he walked over to pay his fine. Harry Reed, alias Lloyd Reid, submitted to a charge of creating a disturbance and paid $5.00. He was arrested by Police O. S. Mayberry on Main street a few hours after midnight for creating a disturbance by yelling loudly and using boisterous language.

Vester Anderson was assessed six dollars and costs for loitering. John Fitzgerald, colored, was fined eleven dollars and costs for a violation of the Prohibition laws.

Charles Archer, charged with trespass, was not present.

Henry Pinkard, colored, paid the costs of a warrant charging him with an assault on Julia Watson.

William King fined sixteen dollars and costs for creating a disturbance. Ruby Carr was assessed $3.50 and costs for throwing a bucket of water from her window to the street on a negroes, who brought the charge alleging assault.

Let's Forget About Skirt Lengths and Wastlines

WHILE fashion arbiters fight out the matter of skirt lengths and wastlines, let us give thought to the matter of accessories.

After all, nothing else counts quite so much.

Taking for granted that already you have purchased your Danville scarfs you had your blouses monogrammed, let us take up gloves.

If you stick to the regulation type of glove, it will be because you have conservative tastes, for there are many novelties.

Gloves used to be embroidered in black and white, but now roses, forget-me-nots and tropical birds are transplanted in their natural colors.

Cuffs are featured on many gloves, and frequently they are in contrasting colors. A gray glove may have a rose or blue cuff to match a frock, or be lined with some brilliant color.

Fringe is noticed on many gauntlets and beads, too.

In pumps, the colonial model leads, with the Spanish heel. Buckles usually cost more than the shoes. Those brilliant and cut steel frequently flare in the shape of a high Spanish comb. They are apt to be any size.

On white satin pumps are rosettes of white lace. Brocade slippers are trimmed with pompons of rose, blue or whatever tone predominates in the fabric. Ostrich pompons also are seen on delicate-colored satin pumps.

White sport shoes are of kid or buckskin, trimmed with pipings of black patent leather, black stitching, or insets of black leather. Thought usually they are strap models, sometimes they are adorned with tailored buckles.

In purses and handbags the novelty lies in the completeness of equipment. They contain everything a woman needs for the restoration of the complexion, yet they maintain a slender, envelope shape for the most part.

Tapestry and velvet bags are more popular than beaded models, except for the very fine type of beaded bag.

which is a staple, like the exquisite silver or gold mesh bag.

Frequently one finds a combination of figured material and beads, the beads outlining the pattern rather than covering it.

New Adventure In Polar Zone

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A Nome-to-Newfoundland trip through the Arctic will be made this year if his plans go through, according to Captain Joe Bernard of the Teddy Bear, who is in this city on a trip East to arrange for the exhibition of relics of Sir John Franklin's ill-fated Arctic expedition and archeological material from prehistoric Eskimo graves in Victoria Land and in North Siberia. John B. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective Association, is assisting in the effort to organize a west-to-east expedition through the Arctic.

One of the relics of Sir John Franklin's expedition consists of parts of a copper boom from one of his ships which was found in possession of an Eskimo on a trip East to arrange for the exhibition of relics of Sir John Franklin's ill-fated Arctic expedition and archeological material from prehistoric Eskimo graves in Victoria Land and in North Siberia. John B. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective Association, is assisting in the effort to organize a west-to-east expedition through the Arctic.

Another strange relic of early British expeditions reported by Captain Bernard was a bit of applied science. It was a wooden leg manufactured roughly for himself by an Eskimo on Adelaide Peninsula, his ancestors having learned the trick from members of the expedition of Sir James C. Ross, who explored in the Arctic in 1828.

A Veteran Arctic Trader.
Captain Bernard has been trading and making archeological and anthropological collections among the Eskimos for twenty seasons. He is said to have covered more mileage in the Arctic than any man living. His greatest collection, numbering 2,000 pieces, is in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania. Other collections made by him are in this city at the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation; at the Loryna College at Ottawa and elsewhere. Edward Arnold of Montreal has a large private collection containing many Arctic treasures bartered from natives or executed by Captain Bernard, who is by a wide margin the greatest individual hunter of material of this kind in the North.

His most interesting recent collection contains weapons and utensils from ancient graves on Victoria Land in the Arctic. These are believed to prove that the early Victoria Land Indians belonged to the Chukchees tribe of Siberia, who also bury their dead in stone-lined graves with heads pointing East.

Two Alternating Trips.
The Arctic pilot said that he was ready to attempt the trip in either one of two ways—a quick dash with the purpose of completing the trip in one summer, or a more leisurely journey, wintering on Victoria Land or some other part of the Arctic, hunting polar bear while the light lasts, taking motion pictures and listening to music, news and bedtime stories from WJZ.

If conditions are favorable, it would be possible to leave Nome in July to reach Newfoundland in the latter part of September or early in October, he said. "If we started intending to make the trip in one summer, I think we would have about an even chance of getting through. If ice conditions were bad, as they were last summer, it would be necessary to go into winter quarters. The expense of the short trip would be about $15,000. If we stayed over all winter and made our way out the following summer, the cost would be all of $20,000.

They would take one native on the trip, and the passengers could not number more than three or four. They would have to act as the crew and do their share of the work. The party would have to live largely on the country. Their diet would vary, according to the position where they located. Fat reindeer is the best meat in the North and then reindeer about the poorest, according to Captain Bernard. Next to fat reindeer the highest living in the Arctic, he said, was wolf, whose meat was lean steaked with fat, having the flavor of fine lamb. Varied fare of this kind would be possible if the party came on the coast of the continent, whereas polar bear would be the mainstay if they wintered on Melville Island.

Relics Sent to Ottawa.
The historic gravesite located with the "H. M." remaining as the fraction of the lettering and the wooden box have been sent to Loryna College, Ottawa, where Captain Bernard is preparing for the exhibition. The most extraordinary memento of the early expeditions, however, is the wooden leg, which was cited by the explorer as one of the best evidences of the accuracy of Eskimo traditions, because it shows an exact preservation of information which came to the tribe originally at Adelaide Peninsula nearly a century ago.

"The leg was most ingeniously made," he said. "It consisted of more than twenty pieces of wood. There was no timber from which a solid piece could be obtained in that part of the world and the Eskimo had to rely on driftwood. Each small piece was planed. Strips of seal walrus hide were run through the holes and they were all lashed together. A piece of wood which projected forward, as a substitute for the ball of the foot, was tied on the bottom. The leg was off below the knee. It was lashed on above the knee, about as we would do it.

"I asked the Eskimo how he had learned to do this. He said his father had told him. The father told how he had learned by word of mouth from the elder of the tribe of the same name when he visited this part of the world. One of the Eskimos then had lost a leg, and a white man who belonged to the party had showed him how to harness it on to the stump. The exact manner of doing this, all the tricks of leg making, had been retained in memory.

It was the utilization I looked up the account of the Ross expedition and there this incident, which occurred in 1828, is described in detail. The names of the Englishman and of the Eskimo are both even now and the Eskimo was precisely that given to me by the father of the one-legged man."

OFFICERS ARE WOUNDED BY A GEORGIA FARMER

(By The Associated Press)
STATESVILLE, Ga., Feb. 3.—Mack Lockert, of Dawson, Ga., was fatally shot and R. S. Kitchner, also of Dawson, was seriously wounded this morning on the highway near the farm of Mann Carter, a farmer, according to word received here. Lockert and Kitchner were federal enforcement officers and were said to have gone to Carter's home to instruct him regarding dipping cattle which were picked up by the officers and held until the law had been complied with. A heated argument resulted between the officers and Mann Carter and his son and the shooting followed. Echols county officials have indicated that no arrests will be made in the case until warrants have been issued. Detailed information is lacking but it was alleged that as the officers were returning to the automobile in which they had driven to the Carter farm, they were fired upon by Carter and his son.

CHANGES MADE IN THE SERVICE

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, Feb. 3.—Premier Mussolini, in his capacity as foreign minister, has decreed important changes in the diplomatic and consular services, abolishing distinction between the two services insofar as the personnel is concerned and calling for economy in the conduct of the various embassies and legations. When persons entering the diplomatic services were required to have independent incomes. This system has been rejected as barring from the service many who by tradition and birth are best fitted, making way instead for "objectionable profiteers." No foreigners henceforth will be appointed as representatives abroad, except when no Italian is available.

Depressed Feeling

"I AM now using Cardui," said Mrs. Clara Daniels. "It was recommended to me for change of life. I have taken two bottles and am feeling so much stronger than I have in a long time. . . . The depressed feeling is gone. I enjoy working my yard and garden and visiting. I am going to keep it up, for Cardui is helping me."

Mother and Daughter

"I USED Cardui for a weak, run-down condition," said Mrs. L. J. Williams. "I used to suffer quite a bit with pain in my left side, a great deal of soreness in this side. I suffered several years with this trouble. I heard of Cardui and it certainly did relieve me. I was strengthened and helped and felt much better after taking it. I cannot say enough for what it has done for me. I used it for my daughter for . . . trouble and she was much benefited. Cardui has been my stand-by and we take it, when we need a tonic, with good results."

Womanly Weakness

"I WAS A SUFFERER for some time with womanly weakness," said Mrs. L. F. Walker. "Each month my back and sides would ache, and I had pains in the lower part of my body. When in this condition I felt so cross and bad. I tried teas and going to bed, but the next month I had to go through with it all again. A lady friend told me of the Cardui and I sent for it. I took two bottles and it helped me. I did not have the pain at . . . I have taken it twice in the Spring, as a tonic. I think it is a splendid builder. After taking I would have a good appetite and feel more like doing my work."

Cramp & Pain

"I USED TO CRAMP . . . and have pain in my back and shoulders and I would have headache," said Mrs. Lonnie Sutton. "I would suffer so I did not feel like doing my work, and I felt like I would like to sit down to do my work. I didn't sleep well, turning and twisting. I would imagine I was worse than what I was, especially when I would cramp. My mother had used Cardui, so I sent for a bottle. It helped me right off. I felt so much better until I used it for a few months at . . . I did not cramp after this and I slept so much better at night. I would take an occasional dose of Black-Draught, and that with the Cardui, was of great benefit to me."

MRS. A. L. STAGGS
Wiville
Arkansas

Pains in Sides

"I HAD the worst pains in my sides and bearing down on each side imaginable," said Mrs. A. L. Staggs. "I felt at times when I would step off of anything quick like there was a boil in my side. My hips were sore and when I would stand I suffered misery. I tried . . . anything any one told me. Ease was what I wanted. A friend told my husband of Cardui and I bless the day. I took a number of bottles. Now I ride, walk, and go and feel fine. The soreness disappeared from my sides. I . . . gradually got my strength back. I believe I owe my good health to Cardui. With the Cardui I took an occasional dose of Black-Draught. It is good to regulate the bowels and cleanse the system."

Venus Found in School

(Special to The Bee)
OLYMPIAN O. K. E. Mass. most perfectly formed schoolgirl is Miss Miriam Jones, 16-year-old sophomore at Holyoke.

She eats candy, drinks ice cream sodas, likes detective stories and hasn't any rules for development except to engage in athletic sports.

Evidently Miss Jones has not been incapacitated by her failure to observe strict training diet. Last summer at the Harvard Stadium she broke two national records, the running high and running broad jumps.

The man who pronounces Miss Jones the perfect physical specimen of girlhood is Charles K. Taylor, of Carteret Academy, Orange, N. J., an authority on physical standards. He has made records of thousands of other girls throughout the country but Miss Jones outpointed them all, her score being 138 against the average in all the schools of 92. This former record holder, a Kansas girl, scored 135.

Miss Jones attributes her prowess to "Athletics. I go in for all kinds of sports."

At the stadium she broke the record for the running high jump by two inches and the running broad jump by 5 1/2 inches, setting a mark of 4 feet 6 inches in the former event, and 14 feet 8 1/2 in the latter.

These were the only two events she was allowed to enter but she has done 8 feet 3 in the standing broad jump, which is 14 1/2 inches longer than the winning jump at the stadium.

Miss Jones is also a clever swimmer and plays basketball.

Despite her youth, the schoolgirl Venus has a decided personality. Although she is surprisingly shy, there is a mischievous twinkle in her eye and her friendly smile reveals a row of even, white teeth. Her hair is blond and bobbed and she wears the maddy blouse, short, dark skirt and brown woolen hose so much in favor with the athletic high school miss.

"Plenty of action," is Miss Jones' prescription for herself. "I like action."

Her record shows that she puts her doctrine into practice. There won't be a schoolgirl track record safe for two more years, for Miss Jones has that much school ahead.

After she finishes school here, she expects to go to a gymnastic training school in New Haven—for this young champion is going to help other girls to follow in her footsteps.

WINSTON SALEM DEFEATS "Y" TEAM

Winston-Salem defeated the local Y. M. C. A. in one of the closest and hardest fought games ever seen in Danville. It was a fight from start to finish with the Danville boys leading at the end of the first half by the score of 19 to 12. By a series of brilliant shots by Clay and Martin, some of them from the middle of the floor, aided by the brilliant guarding of Carlisle, a former Virginia star, Winston gradually overcame the lead and forced ahead in the last few minutes of play. H. Leo was high scorer for Danville with four field goals out had to leave the game early in the second half on account of a bad bump on the leg which has been bothering him lately. Riddle, with three also did well and, at guard E. Lea and Clark played good games. Dudley played 12 out of 13 foul goals. The line-up: Winston-Salem Position Danville

Langley... I... H. Leo and Rustin
Martin... C... Riddle
Fulton... G... E. Lea
Carlisle... G... Clark

Field goals Dudley 2, H. Leo 4, Rustin 1, Riddle 3, Clark 1, Carlisle 2, Martin 4, Fulton 2. Foul goals, Martin 3 out of 14, Dudley 12 out of 18.

LYNCHBURG "5" DEFEATS H-S

HAMPDEN SIDNEY, Va., Feb. 3.—In a game marred by much roughness, Lynchburg College defeated Hampden Sidney tonight, by the score of 40 to 22. Despite the score the game was an interesting one from start to finish, and, although the Hornets were the victors, they were pushed hard throughout the fracas, finding no time to lay down, but for the fact that China Carter, the Tigers' stellar forward was ruled out of the game a few moments after the beginning of the second half, the score might have been much closer, for this factor was doing the biggest part for his team. After his withdrawal from the lineup, the Tigers failed to add another point.

The line-up: Lynchburg Putney... Thomas Carter... Oliver Stoltz... Whit Parker... Woodside Southall... Suttentiff

Summary: Hampden Sidney substituted Luk for Stoltz, who was fouled out. Putney, Putney for Stoltz, Benjamin for Carter, Lynchburg, Oliver for Thomas, Nee for Suttentiff.

Field goals: Hampden Sidney, Putney 2, Carter 1, Stoltz 1, Parker 1, Lynchburg, Thomas 5, N. Oliver 3, Whit 6, Poulk, Southall, 4 out of 9, Whit, 6 out of 12. Referee Carlington.

BADLY THROWN BALL WHICH INJURED SISTER MAY PROVE COSTLY

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—Trying to make a catch of a badly thrown ball, that really would have had no effect on the outcome of the game, may prove a very costly play to the St. Louis Browns.

George Sisler, leading hitter of the American League, and first baseman extraordinary, is the player who figured in the happening.

Just prior to the New York-St. Louis series last fall which practically decided the American League pennant, Sisler attempted to play a badly thrown ball.

Sisler could have permitted the ball to speed on and it would have proved a wise move, but players in figuring a play never take into consideration the chance of injury. If they did baseball would soon lose much of its popularity.

With the player the best thought is to execute the play, regardless of consequences. Sisler injured his muscles of the shoulder in stretching to the limit. He played in two of the games with New York, but was in no condition to do himself justice.

Sisler was forced to hold the arm in a rigid position. This greatly curtailed his speed.

In one instance he hit into a double play that changed the result of the game. The game was then decided upon a ball to the infield. Had his arm been in shape he would have easily beaten the throw.

Now comes the report that the Browns are grooming a substitute first baseman should Sisler's injury handicap him at any time the coming season. It is said the injury is not improving as hoped by the writer of rest.

GOLF CHAMPS SELDOM REPEAT

A golf title is the most fickle thing in all sports. It is not unusual for a pennant winner to repeat. Likewise in tennis. For a number of years Bill Tilden has proved his superiority on the courts without being hard pressed.

In fistic circles, champions retain their titles for years. Johnny Kilbane has been the possessor of the featherweight crown for over 10 years.

In golf it is a different story. Not in 10 years has an entry been able to repeat in either the British or United States amateur or open championships.

Of the American golfers, Jerome Travers is the one outstanding star in the matter of repeating. He won the U. S. amateur in 1916 and 1918 and did the same thing in 1912 and 1915.

CHATHAM TEAM DEFEATS QUINT FROM LYNCHBURG

CHATHAM, Va., Feb. 3.—The Chatham Training School basketball team here tonight defeated a quint representing the Knights of Columbus of Lynchburg, the final score being 21 to 16. However, the visitors threw a scare into the local five. The first half ended 13 to 7 in favor of the visitors. Chatham came back stronger in the second half, overcame the lead and in the last few minutes of play forged to the front.

NEW LOW RECORD

(By The Associated Press)
PINEBURST, N. C., Feb. 3.—A new low record for the championship country course of the Southern Pine Country Club was established today by Emmet French, the Youngstown and Southern Pine professional, who went around in 31-34-65.

Women Break World Records

(Special to The Bee)
THIS is an era of record-breaking performances, and all the feats are not credited to mere man. At a recent big indoor meet held at the 22nd Regiment Armory in New York, a new world's record for women was made in the 440-yard relay event.

The four girls representing the Valour Club of New York stopped the 440 in 35 1/5 seconds, clipping four-fifths of a second from a record they had previously established.

GIRL'S TEAM IS BEATEN BY S. B.

The Danville High School girls' basketball team was defeated last night by a strong team from South Boston High School, the final score being 20-10. The game which was staged in the Municipal building, was easily won by the visitors, who had a much heavier and to be fair better team. Although the teamwork of the locals was good and consistent, they were unable to hold their opponents down. Many fouls were called on both sides.

VIRGINIA TECH FOOTBALL DATES FOR NEXT FALL

(By The Associated Press)
BLACKSBURG, Va., Feb. 3.—The Virginia Tech football team will play nine games next fall, three of them on the home gridiron. The season will be opened September 29 against Hampden Sidney at Blacksburg and will close with the annual clash against Virginia Military Institute at Roanoke.

VIRGINIA BEATS THE V. M. I. QUINT

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 3.—In a slow and uninteresting game Virginia defeated V. M. I. here tonight 20 to 8. For the third thirty-four minutes of play the Cadets failed to register a single counter from the floor. In the last six minutes two shots by Ferguson and Ryder counted for half of V. M. I. scoring. The first half was poorly played with V. M. I. being the principal offender. In the second period play was speeded up slightly but the Lexingtonians were not able to threaten at any time.

Walp and Stanley were the outstanding players on the Orange and Blue quint. Stanley scored half his team's total.

Ferguson and Ryder played the best game for the Cadets but were poorly supported by their team mates.

CUT ENTRY LIST

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The United States Lawn Tennis Association today voted to cut the entry list for the national men's singles from 138 to 64 players "order to insure a tournament of real championship caliber." It also voted to limit the number of players to 16—8 and 8 foreign players.

The following were elected officers of the United States Lawn Tennis Association:

President—Dwight F. Davis, of St. Louis and Washington, vice president—George W. Wightman, secretary—Paul B. Williams, Utica, N. Y.; treasurer—Louis E. Daily, East Orange, N. J.

Delegates at large elected were: R. N. Williams, Cnd, Philadelphia; Jones W. Mersereau, New York; Samuel H. Coleman, Philadelphia.

Sectional delegates: E. M. Garnett, Salt Lake City; Walter A. Goss, Portland, Ore.; B. M. Grant, Atlanta.

WEST VIRGINIA WINS

(By The Associated Press)
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 3.—West Virginia triumphed over Washington and Lee in basket ball here tonight in a rough and tumble game by the score of 27 to 20.

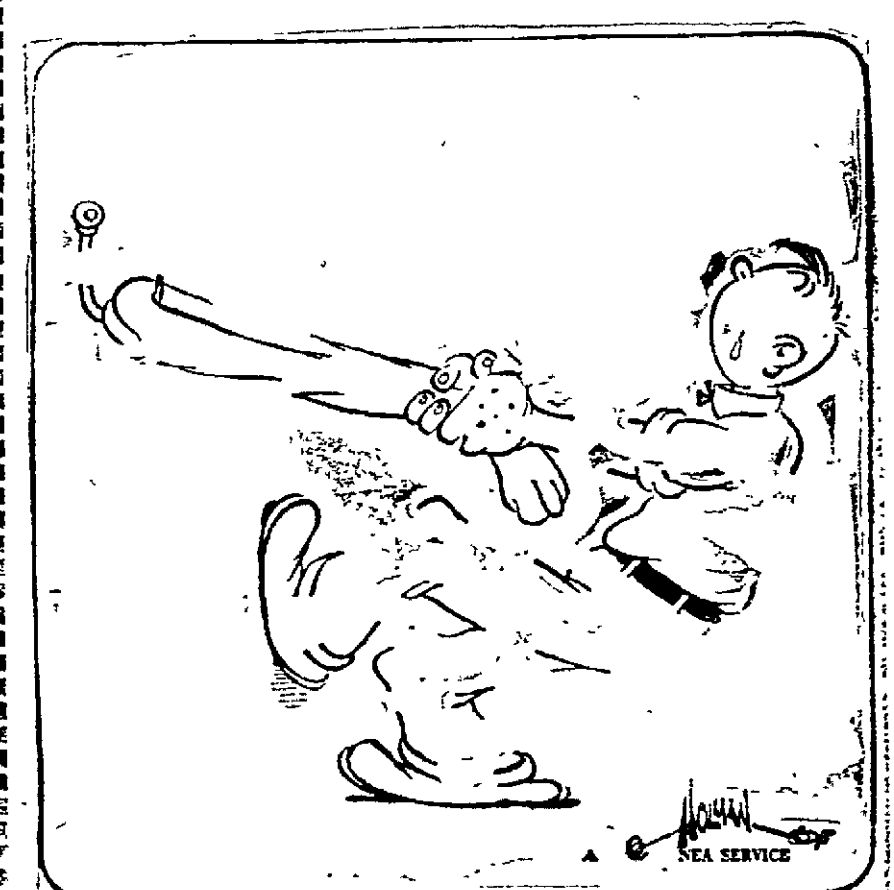

The Generals were out in front at the half, the score being 10 to 3 but in the closing minutes of the game the Wolverines doubled in three times from the tip off and registered as many goals putting the game on ice.

One West Virginia player and one Washington and Lee player were barred from the game for fighting and one other from each team were put out via the personal foul route.

LIKE CASEY, an old-time section foreman, efficient but not educated, had to report a fatal accident.

A car of pig iron had got away from the Mexican who was in charge of it, had run down a steep grade and then overturned in the ditch. The Mexican was killed.

Miko was required to fill out a detailed report on the form provided by the company, and after a deal of work and worry, he completed it, save for the space entitled: "Remarks." Over this Miko puzzled for some time and then wrote:

"He never made any, he was dead."

Turkish Refusal To Sign Causes Disappointment

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Turkish refusal to sign the treaty at Lausanne, although having been regarded in London as probable, has caused great disappointment and regret, while having aroused considerable uneasiness for the future. Although a renewal of war with Turkey is not considered as an inevitable result, the possibility of such an outcome is admitted, as it is contended that Great Britain has gone to the utmost limit of concessions.

"The British empire will not give way to Ankara on subjects where its interests and honor are concerned," says the Times. "We have shown our eagerness for a settlement, and can not go further. By their obstinacy the Turks have sacrificed the amazingly favorable terms offered to them and have demonstrated their utter inability to comprehend the first principles of civilization and the width and depth of the gulf which separates them from all civilized peoples."

The Morning Post says: "The Turkish decision does not mean a course of hostilities between Turkey and the allies, but with it comes the end of the temporary arrangement reached at Mudania, and demands from the British government reconsideration of the military position in the near and middle east. We must resolutely face the new situation created."

The paper believes, however, that time may lead the Turks to reconsider their decision and that Turkey may be forced again to approach the powers as a suppliant.

The Daily News thinks the Turks have made a grave mistake in not accepting the generous and substantial concessions. This paper hopes that "it is still possible to avert a dangerous outbreak in the Near East if the allies adhere to a common policy and maintain good faith with each other."

The Westminster Gazette says: "The next step is not clear. Technically the Turks and the allies remain at war, but that does not mean necessarily that there will be war. It is rather probable that the allies will have to remain on the defensive in various quarters of the world and resume negotiations later."

"What the Turks exclude from acceptance is worth neither war nor a standing defensive."

The Daily Express which opposes what it calls "Great Britain's crazy commitments in the uttermost parts of the earth" demands that the troops be recalled from Constantinople and the whole Near East.

The comment generally treats very recent suspensions against France, the Times withholds its judgment on these fears that the Turks were encouraged to refuse by the report that France was willing to enter into negotiations with Mustafa Kemal.

The Post does not believe that Premier Poincaré's recent measures profoundly affected the decision; nevertheless it emphasizes the extreme importance of France and Great Britain pulling together.

Cold Wave To Continue Tuesday

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 4.—Continuation of the cold spell and freeze which already has extreme portions of the southeast is predicted for tomorrow and Tuesday.

With Tennessee, northern Mississippi and northern Alabama seized by a wintry blast of sleet, snow and ice, one fatality is reported in Birmingham, from exposure, where the mercury was reported hovering below 30 with a blanket of ice, sleet and some snow.

Richmond reported a light snow to-night with a drop in temperature, lowering of the mercury being recorded in the Carolinas with rain, and cold wave warnings being issued by the weather bureau affecting the entire Atlantic seaboard.

Freezing temperatures were predicted as far south as central Florida, as warnings issued by the weather forecaster.

The thermometer registering just under forty Sunday and early Sunday night, the extreme southeast, had not felt the force of the predicted cold wave, though with rain, colder weather was forecast to the coast tomorrow and Tuesday.

A PUZZLE A DAY

In an "open shop," 18 men were employed. Half of them belonged to the union. It was necessary to lay off half the force. The foreman, who belonged to the union, lined the men in a circle, as shown in the diagram, and began counting around the circle from A. Every time he counted to five, the man was discharged, and told to leave the circle. How did he arrange the circle so that every fifth man was a non-union man?

Yesterday's answer:

If a trunk weighs 10 pounds, and half its own weight, its weight must be 20 pounds. 10 pounds being half its weight. Therefore, a trunk and a half will weigh 30 pounds.
